

Julian Benefield Appointed Foodstuffs North Island's General Counsel And Company Secretary

"Foodstuffs North Island has announced the appointment of Julian Benefield as their new General Counsel and Company Secretary who will also join the Executive Leadership team. The appointment comes seven years after Julian re-joined Foodstuffs as a Senior Solicitor. Chris Quin, CEO of Foodstuff," reports Scoop Business in their blog.

"Julian is a natural leader and his talent, determination and passion for the co-op, and his commercial and legal guidance is always spot on. We're committed to developing and supporting Foodies talent, so it's awesome Julian's taking up the opportunity of this crucial role in the Foodstuffs North Island team. Julian first joined the Foodies."
