

Kathryn Koorennny Joins AlixPartners as General Counsel

AlixPartners, the global advisory firm, has announced that Kathryn Koorennny has joined the firm as Managing Director and General Counsel. Ms. Koorennny will join the firm's senior leadership team and be based in AlixPartners' New York office.

Ms. Koorennny succeeds John Collins, who is stepping down after eight years of service to pursue a career in academia.

Ms. Koorennny joins AlixPartners from American Airlines, where she spent 20 years, most recently as Associate General Counsel, Litigation and Compliance. There, she was responsible for global commercial litigation and corporate compliance.

"Kathryn is an accomplished attorney who brings exceptional experience, passion and energy to her work," said Fred Crawford, CEO of AlixPartners. "I look forward to working with her and believe she will bring a unique perspective to the senior leadership team. It is a pleasure to welcome her to the firm."

Ms. Koorennny's background also includes considerable experience in legal and business ethics leadership, litigation, and mergers and integration on both sides of Chapter 11 bankruptcies. As such, she has a deep understanding of the sensitive situations AlixPartners' clients often face and a demonstrated track record of providing highly responsive and effective counsel.

"AlixPartners consultants work under extreme pressure to deliver exceptional results – and our legal team works just as hard to support them," said Kathryn Koorennny, General Counsel of AlixPartners. "I am excited to join the team and will be a passionate advocate for our business, our clients, and our people.”

Prior to joining American Airlines, Ms. Kooreny worked as an attorney in the litigation practice of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher, where she represented secured creditors, lessors, and Chapter 11 debtors.

Ms. Kooreny holds a J.D. from the University of Southern California Law Center and a B.A. from Loma Linda University.
