

Kimball Electronics Names Successor to General Counsel

“Kimball Electronics has named Douglas Hass as its next general counsel, chief compliance officer CCO and corporate secretary. He will succeed Kimball Electronics veteran John Kahle, who is retiring on December 31. Hass is at present associate general counsel and assistant secretary, having,” reports Ben Maiden in Corporate Secretary.

“Indiana-based company in 2020. His career includes more than 25 years of legal, management and operations experience focused on technology-intensive telecommunication companies and electronics manufacturers. Before joining Kimball Electronics, he was general counsel and secretary of Nasdaq-listed dairy company Lifeway Foods.”

Read the article.