Kyle Robisch Joins Bradley's Litigation Practice Group in Tampa

Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP is pleased to announce that Kyle Robisch has joined the firm's Tampa office as an associate in the Litigation Practice Group.

"We are happy to welcome Kyle to our Tampa office," said Bradley Tampa Office Managing Partner Craig Mayfield. "Kyle is a great addition to our team of highly skilled litigators, and he brings a wide range of experience that will benefit our clients."

Robisch represents clients in all manners of business disputes, including high-stakes, bet-the-company cases in federal and state courts across the country. He has significant experience litigating environmental and land use matters, often counseling clients proposing high-profile projects before, during and after litigation. Outside the courtroom, he advises clients on pre-permitting and pre-litigation strategy, provides public relations and governmental affairs advice, and works with regulators to move projects forward.

Before joining Bradley,Robisch served as a law clerk to the Hon. G. Kendall Sharp of the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida, where he drafted numerous dispositive orders and assisted the judge through all phases of civil and criminal trials and hearings.

Robisch earned his J.D. from Vanderbilt University Law School and his Bachelor of Arts (magna cum laude) from the University of Florida.

The Litigation Practice Group is Bradley's largest practice and includes nearly half of the firm’s more than 500 attorneys who represent clients in litigation and arbitration in every U.S. state and federal district court across the country, as well as internationally. Attorneys handle matters in nearly every substantive area of business law and in a wide range of industries, including high-stakes and complex cases.
