

Lightning Sign Andrej Sustr, Six Others to Two-Way Contracts

“The Lightning added their organizational depth with six signings Wednesday afternoon. Tampa Bay is bringing back a familiar face in ex defenseman Andrej Sustr, in addition to forwards Gabriel Dumont, Charles Hudon and Remi Elie defenseman Darren Raddysh the brother of forward Taylor Raddysh and goaltender Maxime Lagace. All will be on one year, two way contracts,” reports Mari Faiello in their Tampa Bay Times.

“Sustr, 30, played for the KHL’s Kunlun Red Star this past year, with five assists in 41 games. He played the first six years of his NHL career which began in 2012-13 with the Lightning, accumulating 10 goals and 53 assists. He signed with Anaheim as a free agent in 2018. Raddysh skated in 24 games for the Hartford Wolf Pack as the team’s captain this past season, recording two goals and 15 points.”

Read the article.