LITTLER'S APAC REGIONAL OFFICE IN SINGAPORE AND MANAGING PARTNER TRENT SUTTON EARN RECOGNITION IN 2026 CHAMBERS ASIA-PACIFIC GUIDE

SINGAPORE (Dec. 11, 2025) – Littler's Asia-Pacific Regional Office in Singapore and its managing partner, Trent M. Sutton, have been recognized in the 2026 edition of the Chambers Asia-Pacific guide.

The global employment and labor law firm opened its Singapore office in November 2019 and has since expanded its regional operations. The office now includes six attorneys who support corporations across Asia-Pacific with legal compliance and cross-border employment strategies.

Sutton, a U.S.-licensed attorney, advises multinational employers on employment law in Asia and globally. His recognition in the Chambers guide highlights his work advising companies on workforce mobility and international HR compliance. He represents Fortune 100 and 500 companies and helps them address employment law challenges across jurisdictions.

Chambers and Partners' Asia-Pacific guide is known for its independent analysis of legal professionals and firms in the region, using detailed research and client interviews to inform its rankings.

In addition to its Asia-Pacific recognition, Littler had over 75 attorneys named in Chambers USA, including offices in six states that earned a Band 1 ranking.

Littler has more than 1,800 attorneys worldwide and advises employers on labor and employment matters across global markets.
