

Lord Law Firm Managing Partner Harrison Lord Joins International Association of Defense Counsel

The International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) has announced that Harrison A. Lord, founder and managing member of Lord Law Firm, PLLC, in Charlotte, North Carolina, has accepted an invitation to join the IADC, the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests.

Mr. Lord is a trial lawyer who focuses his practice on business law, commercial litigation, partnership disputes, and collections. A certified mediator, he also devotes a significant portion of his practice to mediating disputes.

Mr. Lord has served in various leadership roles with the North Carolina Bar Association (NCBA), including as former chair of the Young Lawyers Division, and Mecklenburg Bar Association. He has been named a North Carolina "Super Lawyer" and "Rising Star" and has been recognized by the Business North Carolina Legal Elite (2014-2022) and Charlotte Business Journal 40 under 40 (2019). In addition, he is a fellow of the Litigation Counsel of America and a recipient of the NCBA Young Lawyers Division's Charles F. Blanchard Outstanding Young Lawyer Award (2011).

Mr. Lord received his J.D. (with honors) from Washington University in St. Louis School of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

About the International Association of Defense Counsel

The IADC is the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests. Founded in 1920, the IADC has members who hail from six continents, 51 countries and territories, and all 50 U.S. states. The core purposes of the IADC are to enhance the development of skills, promote professionalism, and facilitate camaraderie among its members and their clients, as well as the broader civil justice community. For more information, visit www.iadclaw.org.