

Managing Contract Performance: Beyond the 'Sign and File'

- ☒ Revitas presents a complimentary webinar on effective contract management.

Getting the final signatures and filing the contract has always been viewed as the end of the contract management process. But the reality is that true contract management really begins at that point, Revitas says on its website.

For this webinar Revitas teams up with IACCM to explore why effective management of the ongoing life of a contract is essential to corporate success and strategic growth, and why the old "sign and file" mentality could be detrimental to your business.

Watch the on-demand webinar.