McCarter & English, LLP Partner Matt Wright Joins International Association of Defense Counsel

The International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) has announced that Matt Wright, a partner at McCarter & English, LLP, in Washington, D.C., has accepted an invitation to join the IADC, the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests.

“I am honored to have the opportunity to work with, and learn from, some of the best lawyers in the country and around the world,” Mr. Wright said. “IADC will help me stay abreast of cutting-edge developments in the law so I can better serve my clients.”
Mr. Wright is a trial lawyer who focuses on commercial litigation, advertising, products liability, and government contract disputes.

Mr. Wright received his J.D. from Boston College Law School and his A.B. (cum laude) from Princeton University.

About the International Association of Defense Counsel
The IADC is the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests. Founded in 1920, the IADC has members who hail from six continents, 51 countries and territories, and all 50 U.S. states. The core purposes of the IADC are to enhance the development of skills, promote professionalism, and facilitate camaraderie among its members and their clients, as well as the broader civil justice community.
