

McGuireWoods Partner Nicholas Hoffman Joins International Association of Defense Counsel

The International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) has announced that Nicholas J. Hoffman, a partner at McGuireWoods in Los Angeles, California, has accepted an invitation to join the IADC, the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests.

“I am honored to have been nominated as a member of the prestigious International Association of Defense Counsel,” Mr. Hoffman said. “I look forward to building lasting relationships through the IADC for years to come.”

Mr. Hoffman is a trial attorney who handles a wide range of matters, including product liability, mass tort, intellectual property, unfair competition, business tort and other complex commercial disputes. He represents clients in the technology, biotechnology, medical devices, consumer products and entertainment industries. He is part of a team that serves as national trial counsel for one of the world’s largest medical device companies.

Mr. Hoffman received his J.D. from the University of California Los Angeles School of Law and his Bachelor of Science from the University of California Los Angeles.

About the International Association of Defense Counsel

The IADC is the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests. Founded in 1920, the IADC has members who hail from six continents, 51 countries and territories, and all 50 U.S. states. The core purposes of the IADC are to enhance the development of skills, promote professionalism, and facilitate camaraderie among its members and their clients, as well as the broader civil justice community. For more information, visit www.iadclaw.org.