

Mega Biglaw Firm Eliminating Staff Positions; More Cuts Could Be on the Way

Above the Law reports that Baker McKenzie has eliminated 46 staff positions – all in the London office in professional and business roles – and another 33 jobs are still at risk as part of a firm-wide assessment.

The firm's review covers 97 positions.

“Eighteen employees in those positions resigned, and 46 have been eliminated so far (15 were identified as redundant, while there remain 31 cut altogether),” writes Above the Law senior editor Kathryn Rubino.
