

Minnesota Timberwolves & Lynx Hire Suzanne Spellacy as General Counsel

“Today Minnesota Timberwolves and Lynx announced the hire of Suzanne Spellacy as the organization’s new General Counsel. In her role, Spellacy will oversee areas related to and involving risk management, employment law, contract negotiations, dispute resolution, and league rules and regulations. Spellacy will also play a pivotal role in the planned transition of ownership,” reports Timberwolves PR in Minnesota Timberwolves.

“We are thrilled to welcome Suzanne to the Pack, Said Timberwolves and Lynx CEO Ethan Casson. She brings a wealth of legal expertise and institutional knowledge to our organization during a very exciting time. Spellacy’s career includes 19 years at Taylor Corporation where her responsibilities included providing legal advice to the Timberwolves and Lynx franchises. Prior to joining Taylor Corporation, she was a shareholder with Twin Cities law firm Winthrop & Weinstine, P.A.”
