Embracing Disruption: Six Innovations Moving Legal Departments Up the Value Chain

Mitratech will present a complimentary webinar describing how the most successful legal departments are capitalizing on disruption in the industry to drive meaningful results. The webinar will be Friday, May 22, at 11 a.m. Central time.

The event will cover six sustainable innovations that create improved efficiency and increased business value:

- Hiring non-lawyers to manage the business of the legal department
- Creating efficiencies through robust knowledge management practices
- Improving legal sourcing through data-driven decision-making
- Funding litigation with outside investors
- Purchasing goods and services through a consortium
- Applying cognitive computing to improve efficiency

Presenters will be Kevin Clem, Managing Director at HBR Consulting, Steven Greenspan, Associate General Counsel at United Technologies, and Jason Parkman, CEO at Mitratech.
