

MSG Entertainment Taps Samsung USA Legal Chief as Next General Counsel

“Madison Square Garden Entertainment, the operator of its namesake sporting and live events arena in New York, has hired veteran in-house legal executive Jamal Haughton as executive vice president and general counsel, succeeding Scott Packman who held the role for just over a,” reports Madeline Anderson in The Global Legal Post.

“In his new role, Haughton will serve as head of the media giant’s legal department and oversee corporate, commercial, transactional, litigation and regulatory legal functions effective 6 December. Reporting directly to Jim Dolan, executive chairman and CEO of MSG Entertainment, Haughton will also manage the company’s.”

Read the article.