Nashville Lawyer Suspended After Posting Advice on How to Make Murder Look Like Self-Defense

"The Tennessee Supreme Court suspended the license of a Nashville attorney after discovering he posted advice on Facebook about how to make deadly force look like self-defense," reports Brinley Hineman in Tennessean's News.

"After a woman made a post on Facebook in 2017 seeking advice on how to handle possible abuse or harassment by an expartner, attorney Winston B. Sitton encouraged her to 'lure' the man into her home and shoot him. He advised her to claim the man broke in with a plan to harm her."

"He later posted that the woman should delete her post if she was serious."
