Using Technology to Close NDA Lifecycle Gaps

An NDA is generally one of the most straightforward contracts you manage. So, why is the process of getting the right agreement into the right hands at the right time so complex?

General Counsel News and Onit present a complimentary whitepaper that explains how the right technology can streamline the process and protect your company from potential liabilities, not to mention keep sales happy.

Onit's NDA App:

- Ensures each NDA is executed with the correct liabilities
- Provides a dashboard or all requested, open and signed NDAs
- Closes the loop on NDAs by integrating with document repositories

This white paper can help you understand how to remove undue burdens on your legal department attorneys and staff.
