

Orsinger, Nelson, Downing & Anderson Attorneys Named to 2016 Texas Rising Stars List

Two attorneys from the Texas-based family law boutique Orsinger, Nelson, Downing & Anderson, LLP, once again have earned recognition among the state's top young lawyers in the 2016 edition of the annual Texas Rising Stars list.

Dallas associate Holly B. Rampy and San Antonio associate R. Porter Corrigan II were selected for their accomplishments in family law.

"We are thrilled, but not surprised, that these two exceptional attorneys were recognized yet again on the Rising Stars list," says firm partner Scott Downing. "Both Holly and Porter are valuable assets to their clients and our firm. We are proud to have them on our team."

Texas Rising Stars recognizes the state's leading attorneys who are 40 or younger, or who have been in practice no more than 10 years. Only 2.5 percent of eligible attorneys receive this award, which is based on peer nominations and extensive editorial review, the firm said in a release.

A third-time Rising Stars honoree, Rampy focuses her practice on cases involving divorce, complex property division, modification actions, enforcement actions and child custody issues. She earned her law degree from Texas Tech University School of Law.

Corrigan is making his sixth appearance on the Rising Stars list. Corrigan, who worked with two federal judges at the district and appellate court levels, represents family law clients in both trial courts and appeals courts. He graduated from St. Mary's University School of Law.

The complete 2016 list of the state's leading young attorneys is available online at www.superlawyers.com and will appear in the April issues of Texas Monthly and Texas Rising Stars magazines.

Orsinger, Nelson, Downing & Anderson, LLP, has 16 lawyers and offices in Dallas, San Antonio and Frisco, Texas. Every firm partner is a member of the Texas Academy of Family Law Specialists and all are Board Certified in Family Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. Orsinger holds additional board certification in Civil Appellate Law.