

Our “Top Five to Ten” List of Important Recent and Upcoming Cases

“When we published our February newsletter, COVID-related closures were still commonplace, vaccines were only first making their way to the general public, and life felt as uncertain as ever. We had no idea how quickly things would change, following the CDC’s,” reports David I. Brody And Gavriela M. Bogin-Farber in Sherin And Lodgen.

“Now businesses are reopening at a rapid pace, and the courts are following suit. Several of the cases we were watching have now been decided, so we have included updates below in the latest edition of our Top Five to Ten, alongside other recent cases of importance to executives and professionals.”
