Webinar: Top 5 Open Source Issues – Stories from the M&A Trenches

Black Duck Software has posted a complimentary ondemand webinar discussing the top five open source issues that impact transactions for both buyers and sellers in M&A transactions.

The 60-minute webinar is titled "Top 5 Open Source Issues – Stories from the M&A Trenches."

"Open source risk is a significant issue for both buyers and sellers in M&A transactions," Black Duck says on its website. "Although open source comprises 30-50% of the code in an average application, sellers rarely know what open source they're using and there are often serious risks associated with open source components in code assets."

In this session, Jim Markwith, a technology attorney who handles complex IP licensing transactions, and has been involved in scores of M&A deals, provides in-depth descriptions of the challenges encountered and their impact on the transaction, punctuating the presentation with insightful stories from the M&A trenches.
