

Parker Poe's Charleston Office Adds Six Attorneys

Parker Poe Adams & Bernstein LLP is pleased to announce that the firm's Charleston office has added six attorneys over the past five months. Jeff Bogdan, Greyson Land, Paige Chamberlain Ornduff, Jonathan Wilson, Alex Breazeale, and Olivia Daly bring a range of experience and strengthen the firm's legal services in the Lowcountry. Jeff, Greyson, Paige, and Jonathan are new to Parker Poe, whereas Alex and Olivia transferred to the firm's Charleston office from Columbia and Greenville, respectively.

Jeff Bogdan focuses on estate planning and probate while also bringing a wide array of litigation experience. He is a former staff attorney for the South Carolina Supreme Court. He has a passion for the Charleston community and is a graduate of the Charleston Metro Chamber of Commerce's Leadership Charleston program.

Greyson Land represents clients in the areas of construction, development, and condemnation. He chairs the Charleston County Bar Association's CLE Committee. He is a former law clerk with the South Carolina House of Representatives' Labor, Commerce, and Industry Committee.

Paige Chamberlain Ornduff represents developers, homebuilders, contractors, and owners with pre-construction, construction, and post-construction issues. Paige is a member of the S.C. Bar board of governors and serves as president-elect of the South Carolina Bar Young Lawyers Division. She is also a volunteer with the S.C. Special Olympics and Habitat for Humanity.

Jonathan Wilson focuses on litigation involving construction, development, and condemnation. Jonathan is a major in the U.S.

Army Reserve Judge Advocate General's (JAG) Corps. He is also a former assistant attorney general in New York and a former assistant district attorney in Mecklenburg County, North Carolina. He has tried dozens of jury and bench trials to verdict.

Alex Breazeale primarily focuses her practice on commercial contracts, construction, and business disputes. She also represents clients in False Claims Act and whistleblower cases. She is a former supply chain analyst at Michelin North America.

Olivia Daly practices primarily in the areas of mergers and acquisitions, general corporate law, corporate finance, and commercial lending. Olivia is a former clerk for the Honorable Tilman E. Self in the United States District Court for the Middle District of Georgia. Prior to attending law school, Olivia worked for a government contracting agency in Washington, D.C.

"We are happy to have Jeff, Greyson, Paige, Jonathan, Alex, and Olivia join our Charleston office," says Ashley Cooper, managing partner of Parker Poe's Charleston office. "They bolster our capabilities and deepen our local bench in several areas, including construction, estate planning, litigation, and corporate finance. They also reflect our firm's commitment to serving our communities."
