

Integrated Reserves Analysis: Finding Opportunity in Low Oil Prices

A free on-demand webinar offered by P2Energy Solutions shows how you can uncover hidden opportunities through reserves visualizations and get the most out of the current market.

Low oil prices have upstream oil and gas companies scrambling to remain profitable in the face of shutdowns and restructurings, the company says on its website. Deciding what to develop, acquire, or divest in volatile market conditions is a challenge. Shrewd companies, however, are identifying opportunities through sound insight enabled by modern business intelligence tools.

The 25-minute webinar covers:

- Gaining a deeper understanding of analysis techniques
- Maximizing value while minimizing costs
- Identifying the best drilling opportunities
