Porzio Expands Reach with Opening of Wilmington, Delaware, Office Led by Cheryl A. Santaniello as Managing Principal

- Location Offers Strong Regional Counsel in Complex Commercial Transactions and Options for Preferred Venues

Porzio, Bromberg & Newman P.C. (Porzio) is delighted to announce that Cheryl A. Santaniello has joined the firm to launch and lead Porzio's first Delaware office. The new office is part of the firm's long-term strategy to offer clients expanded services in Delaware and seamless access to its bankruptcy courts. Santaniello brings three decades of legal experience and community service to the position and is a trusted advisor to clients on complex business transactions and acquisitions. The office supports Porzio's strong bench in bankruptcy in its New Jersey and New York offices, and is positioned to grow with regional lateral recruitment. The new office is located at 300 Delaware Ave., Suite 1220, in Wilmington.

In addition to serving as managing principal of the Wilmington office, Santaniello is a member of Porzio's Real Estate and Bankruptcy Practice Groups. Highly regarded for her practice in the areas of business transactions, commercial real estate, lending and creditors rights, Santaniello represents commercial purchasers, sellers, lenders, developers, landlords, and tenants in Delaware, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey.

Santaniello serves as outside general counsel to clients in a variety of industries, helping them navigate their day-to-day operations and providing legal opinions to lenders and rating agencies on entity formation and existence, authority, bankruptcy-remoteness and non-consolidation.

Santaniello received her J.D. from Rutgers University School of Law and her B.A. from Vanderbilt University.
