How AI Contract Management Improves the Value of the Legal Department

ContractWorks has published a guide to artificial intelligence and its impact on legal departments today and made it available for downloading from the company's website.

The guide is titled "How AI Contract Management Improves the Value of the Legal Department."

The publication covers:

• How AI is impacting legal departments today
• Where AI helps, and where it doesn't
• Why you should identify their core challenges before implementing AI
• How to manage departmental adoption of new AI technology
• What the future of contracting looks like with AI

Download the guide.