Download: Comprehensive Guide to the CCPA

Exterro has published a comprehensive guide to the California Consumer Privacy Act and made it available for downloading from the company's website.

"Recent reports suggest that somewhere between 45% and 86% of companies will are not ready for the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA)," the company says. "Organizations preparing for the CCPA must ready themselves for Data Subject Access Requests from consumers, have an organized data management system that allows them to find and remediate that data within 45 days."

The Exterro guide covers:

- Why the changing regulatory landscape means that getting your data house in order is of the utmost importance
- Tips from subject matter experts for complying with the law based on the regulations that were published
- Answers to major questions that GCs and corporate legal departments that could mean the difference between confident compliance and fines

Download the free guide.