

Fears Nachawati Adds Three Lawyers to Firm

Dallas-based Fears Nachawati announced the addition of three new attorneys.

Misty Farris has a background as an appellate and legal briefing attorney and works with the firm's pharmaceutical and medical device litigation.

Ann Saucer is a litigator with experience in consumer protection, class-actions, environmental law, toxic torts, and pharmaceutical litigation.

Amy Shahan briefs substantive trial court motions and responses and litigates claims on behalf of victims who have used or been exposed to toxic substances, defective products, and pharmaceuticals.
