

Previously Skeptical Consumers 'are Now Thinking About' Installing Solar Panels': GAF Energy President

"Recently announced legislation that would expand solar tax credits to include integrated solar roofs for homeowners in another push towards renewable energy as the earth's climate hurtles toward dangerous tipping points. With 5 million roofs replaced each year in the United States," reports Grace O'Donnell in Yahoo Finance.

"The opportunity to upsell someone from a regular roof to a solar roof represents not only a good business opportunity, but a tremendous opportunity to reduce our reliance on fossil fuels," Martin DeBono, president of GAF Energy, told Yahoo Finance. DeBono added that "with all the attention that solar energy and renewable fuels are."
