Real Estate Investment Opportunities in Mexico

- Haynes and Boone has posted the audio of a recent webinar on investing in real estate in Mexico.

The topics covered include CKDs (Capital Development Certificates) and Mexican REITs (FIBRAS) and how they have fueled the real estate market in Mexico; opportunities that these investment vehicles represent for domestic and international investors; legal developments impacting the real estate industry including constitutional reform on restrictions on foreign ownerships of land; and impact of structural reforms and government infrastructure plans on the real estate industry in Mexico (energy reform), including its impact on land ownership and on Agrarian laws (Ejido).

The moderator is Haynes and Boone partner Michael McCarthy. Panelists are Luis F. Moreno Trevino and Antonio Diez de Bonilla Martinez.
