

Rebecca L. Palmer Law Group Continues to Add Top Talent, Hires Amanda Gonzalez

The Rebecca L. Palmer Law Group is pleased to announce the addition of administrative specialist Amanda Gonzalez to its talented team of legal professionals. Gonzalez brings over seven years of extensive experience, specializing in firm billing, management, and family law.

“Administrative specialists like Amanda are critical to the stability of any law firm,” said Rebecca Palmer, Owner and Managing Partner of the firm. “We are thrilled to have Amanda join our growing team and look forward to her many contributions that help us maximize service to our clients.”

As an administrative specialist, Gonzalez has extensive experience supporting law firm attorneys and paralegals in all phases of litigation, from the initial investigation through the appeal. Gonzalez has comprehensive expertise in case and billing management, scheduling, and organizational communication.

“I am honored to join such a distinguished team,” said Gonzalez. “The Rebecca L. Palmer Law Group is a great step forward in my career, and I am excited to bring my experience to help best serve our firm’s clients. Navigating the legal space during these challenging times is arduous, and it is my goal to make that process as painless as possible.”

Gonzalez started her career in the legal industry, working for several law firms specializing in divorce and family law. She has extensive knowledge of Microsoft Office, various legal administrative software, and strong verbal and written communication skills. Gonzalez is bilingual, with Spanish as a second language. She earned a Financial Operations Technical Certificate from Seminole State College of Florida and is currently a candidate for a bachelor of science degree in business and information management. She has her associate's degree in arts from Seminole State College of Florida.
