

Richmond & Quinn Partner Kenneth Gutsch Joins International Association of Defense Counsel

The International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) has announced that Kenneth Gutsch, a partner at Richmond & Quinn in Anchorage, Alaska, has accepted an invitation to join the IADC, the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests.

Mr. Gutsch practices in the areas of personal injury/premises liability, product liability, construction defect, professional malpractice and insurance coverage litigation. He has drafted amicus curiae briefs on behalf of the Defense Counsel of Alaska Anchorage and the Property Casualty Insurers' Association of America on tort issues before the Alaska Supreme Court.

Mr. Gutsch is a member of the American and Alaska bar associations and the Defense Counsel of Alaska. He also is a past president of Alaska Special Olympics, and has been a member of Rotary International since 2008.

Mr. Gutsch received his J.D. from the University of Illinois College of Law and his Bachelor of Arts from Knox College. He served in the Peace Corps (Senegal) from 1983-1985.

About the International Association of Defense Counsel

The IADC is the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests. Founded in 1920, the IADC has members who hail from six continents, 51 countries and territories, and all 50 U.S. states. The core purposes of the IADC are to enhance the development of skills, promote professionalism, and facilitate camaraderie among its members and their clients, as well as the broader civil justice community. For more information, visit www.iadclaw.org.