

Sidley Adds Prominent Energy Transactional Partner Holt Foster in Dallas

Dallas – Sidley Austin LLP is pleased to announce that Holt Foster has joined the firm as a partner in the Dallas office. Foster will be a member of the global Energy and Infrastructure group and a practice area team co-leader of the Energy practice. He joins Sidley from Thompson Knight where he has served on the firm's Management Committee and as head of the Dallas office.

As one of the leading energy transactional lawyers in Dallas, Foster represents private equity funds and their portfolio companies in buying and selling energy assets. He represents some of the industry's largest funds, focusing on mergers and acquisitions, financings, and formation of private equity funds. In addition to energy transactions, Foster has expertise in a broad range of industries including high-tech and software. He works with public and private companies, both domestically and internationally, on structuring and negotiating transactions.