

Six Bradley Partners Named 2020 LMG 'Life Sciences Stars'

Bradley Arant Boult Cummings LLP is pleased to announce that six of the firm's partners have been included in the 2020 edition of the LMG Life Sciences referral guide to leading North American law firms and lawyers that focus in the life sciences industry. In addition, Bradley was named a "Highly Recommended" firm in the Product Liability & Recall category.

Bradley partners Lindsey C Boney IV, Tripp Haston, Lela M. Hollabaugh, David G. Hymer, Dana C. Lumsden and Kimberly B. Martin were selected as "Life Sciences Stars," who are designated as among the preeminent life sciences practitioners in the United States.

LMG Life Sciences attorney rankings are based on peer, client and firm feedback, combined with independent review of all research data, including publicly available information. The rankings are posted online at www.lmglifesciences.com and will be distributed to selected in-house counsel within pharmaceutical and biotech corporations.

Bradley's nationally recognized Life Sciences Industry Team represents clients involved in pharmaceuticals, medical devices, molecular testing services, drug delivery systems, clinical labs (CLIA), genomic labs, bioinformatics, genomic medical clinics, research institutions, contract research organizations, animal sciences, plant sciences, and healthcare. Among the team's other recent top accolades are Tier 1 national rankings in the 2021 edition of U.S. News – Best Lawyers "Best Law Firms" for Mass Tort Litigation/Class Actions, as well as Tier 1 "Best Law Firms" metropolitan rankings for Product Liability Litigation – Defendants for Bradley's offices in Birmingham; Jackson, Miss.; Montgomery, Ala.; Nashville; and Washington, D.C.