Snow, Christensen & Martineau Partner Camille Johnson Joins International Association of Defense Counsel

The International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC) has announced that Camille Neddo Johnson, a partner at Snow, Christensen & Martineau in Salt Lake City, has accepted an invitation to join the IADC, the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests.

Johnson counsels and educates business clients and public employers regarding risk management initiatives and strategies that prevent or minimize employment claims. She advises clients on employment policies and practices, discipline and terminations, the protection of confidential information, wage and hour practices, executive agreements and compensation plans, separation agreements, independent contractor relationships, and the investigation of employment claims. She serves as both advisor and litigator, having had extensive experience defending clients in employment litigation. Johnson has a significant and varied litigation and trial practice, which includes the defense of leading pharmaceutical and medical device manufacturers in mass tort and coordinated litigation.

Johnson received her J.D. from the S.J. Quinney College of Law at the University of Utah and her Bachelor of Arts from the University of Utah.

About the International Association of Defense Counsel
The IADC is the preeminent invitation-only global legal organization for attorneys who represent corporate and insurance interests. Founded in 1920, the IADC has members who hail from six continents, 51 countries and territories, and all 50 U.S. states. The core purposes of the IADC are to enhance the development of skills, promote professionalism, and facilitate camaraderie among its members and their clients, as well as the broader civil justice community.
