

Steven Mroczkowski Joins Dykema's Financial Services Litigation Practice in Chicago Office

Dykema, a leading national law firm, today announced the addition of Steven D. Mroczkowski to its Financial Services Litigation Practice Group. Mroczkowski joins Dykema's Chicago office where he will concentrate on complex commercial litigation, representation of financial institutions, and construction law.

Mroczkowski represents owners, contractors, developers, small and large businesses, and creditors and financial institutions in all manner of disputes. He litigates in state and federal trial and appellate courts and also represents clients in mediation and arbitration proceedings. Mroczkowski also works closely with clients to prevent disputes through contract drafting and document review and provides valuable general counsel advisory services to industry clients.

He regularly writes and speaks about developments in construction law and general commercial law as it pertains to the financial services industry. He is a past chairperson of the Chicago Bar Association's Real Property Law Subcommittee on Construction Law and Mechanics Liens. Mroczkowski has been selected to serve on the Illinois State Bar Association's (ISBA) Construction Law Section Council and is currently serving as the Council's secretary. He is also a member of the State Bar of Wisconsin's Construction and Public Contract Law Section.

Mroczkowski earned a J.D. from the Chicago-Kent College of Law and a B.A., magna cum laude, in Economics and French from North Central College.
