Stockdale Capital Partners Appoints Richie Dinets as Managing Director & General Counsel

Los Angeles, CA (February 9, 2026) – Stockdale Capital Partners has appointed Richie Dinets as its new Managing Director and General Counsel. In his new role, Dinets will oversee the legal, regulatory, and compliance functions for the real estate private equity firm, contributing to its strategic growth. He will also serve on Stockdale's Management Committee.

Dinets brings over 15 years of experience in institutional private equity real estate, including seven years at Tishman Speyer, where he managed legal strategy for major West Coast markets with $9 billion in assets. His career also includes a robust foundation in private practice with top law firms like Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP, Morrison & Foerster, and Allen Matkins.

Dinets has advised clients on significant acquisitions, joint ventures, development projects, and financing strategies across multiple real estate sectors.

At Stockdale, Dinets is expected to lead legal strategies, support transaction execution, manage outside counsel relationships, and enforce the firm's governance and compliance practices. His expertise will also help shape the firm's long-term strategic initiatives.

"Richie's deep transactional experience and ability to navigate complex real estate structures make him an exceptional addition to our senior leadership team," said Dan Michaels, Managing Partner at Stockdale. "His expertise will be instrumental as we continue to scale our platform and pursue compelling opportunities across our target markets.”

Dinets, a graduate of Loyola Law School in Los Angeles, holds a B.A. in Political Science, International Relations, and Economics from UC San Diego.
