Supply Contracts: Beyond the Basics

Practical Law and Honigman Miller Schwartz & Cohn LLP present a free on-demand webinar focusing on common supply contract negotiating and drafting errors and challenges, steps to avoid disputes, and if a dispute arises, how to best position your client in the dispute resolution process.

On its website, Practical Law says its attendees can expect to discover when and why supply contracts should be used (or not used), how to win the battle of the forms, how to avoid issues that arise from the use of email in the process, and much more.

Free registration is required to see the recorded webinar.
