

Federal Court Sends Ominous Signal on Cannabis Contracts

Insight

The order to show cause states that the contract at issue may be unenforceable under the federal Controlled Substances Act.

Dykema Launches Cannabis Law Practice

News

National law firm Dykema has announced the launch of its Cannabis Law practice, creating an integrated and specialized offering for clients navigating the myriad issues that arise from operating in the cannabis industry, according to a release from the firm.