DLA Piper Secures Victory for WebSpectator

News

DLA Piper recently secured a victory in its representation of WebSpectator Corporation, a Santa Monica-based company that pioneered online analytics and attention ad space.

Missing a Deadline By 41 Minutes May Cost One of Jerry Jones' Attorneys Millions of Dollars

News

A company is suing its former Dallas lawyer, claiming he made a mistake that could end up putting the family-owned company out of business, reports The Dallas Morning News.

Truth in a Post-Truth Era: Sandy Hook Families Sue Alex

Jones, Conspiracy Theorist

News

Jones has claimed that the 2012 shooting that killed 20 first graders and six adults at the elementary school in Newtown, Conn., was an elaborate hoax invented by government-backed "gun grabbers," according to The New York Times.

Law Firm Avoids Email-Related Sanctions in Attorney Pay Suit

News

Sanctions aren't warranted because there are no facts to suggest any potentially relevant emails were lost, the court ruled,

---

IADC Defense Counsel Journal Issue Explores Trending Litigation Issues and Techniques

Insight

The IADC's second-quarter 2018 Defense Counsel Journal issue

includes articles on trending litigation issues and techniques ranging from “Lone Pine” orders to “litigation tourism” to “slack fill litigation.”

Dallas Trial Attorney Sues FindLaw in Dispute Over New Firm Website

News

Trial attorney Rogge Dunn has filed a lawsuit in Dallas County against FindLaw for alleged fraud and misrepresentation of services the company provided for the new Rogge Dunn Group, PC firm website.

Federal Judge Scolds Slow-Moving BigLaw Lawyers

News

A federal judge in New Jersey has criticized Samsung Electronics America and its lawyers at Squire Patton Boggs for alleged “poor judgment and a misunderstanding” of their obligations in litigation involving two would-be class actions, reports the ABA Journal.

Dismiss Big Law Malicious Prosecution Suit, Judge Recommends

News

The recommendation could bring an end to one of several high-stake lawsuits that LabMD Inc. is pursuing against cybersecurity firm Tiversa Inc. and some of the nation's largest law firms, writes Bloomberg Law.

Gauri Prakash-Canjels, Ph.D. Has Joined Litigation Economics

News

Gauri Prakash-Canjels, Ph.D. has joined Litigation Economics, LLC as a principal in its Washington, DC office.

Don't Risk Having an

Equivocal Forum Selection Clause

Insight

The language in a forum selection clause is critical if you want to ensure that potential litigation takes place on your "home court," writes Shep Davidson in the Burns Levinson In-House Advisor blog.

Is a Biglaw Firm About to Be Investigated By Robert Mueller?

News

Leading the speculation is Stormy Daniels lawyer Michael Avenatti, who has said that the apparent reason the firm cultivated a relationship with Cohen was to supplement its lobbying business, reports Above the Law.

Lex Machina Integrates Remedies Analytics into Legal

Analytics Platform

News

Lex Machina, a LexisNexis company and creator of the award-winning Legal Analytics platform, announced the addition of new remedies analytics content for the platform.

Chipotle Cuts Losses, Settles Case With Ex-Worker Rather Than Face Big Damages

News

Chipotle Mexican Grill Inc. on Monday reached a confidential settlement with a former employee, rather than face punitive damages for wrongfully firing her in January 2015 from the the restaurant she once managed, reports The Fresno Bee.

Top Florida Law Firm Fights Accusations of Stiffing Rich Client and Bribing Witnesses

News

Venerable Fort Lauderdale law firm Conrad & Scherer is under siege, reports the Miami Herald.

Fears Nachawati Secures $166M Verdict in Fort Worth Murder-for-Hire Case

News

Attorneys for Dallas-based Fears Nachawati Law Firm have secured a $166 million verdict against the daughter and son-in-law of a North Texas woman who was killed in 2014 for the proceeds of life insurance policies totaling $5 million.

Malpractice Suit Takes Aim At 2 Biglaw Firms

News

Two Biglaw firms are facing a malpractice suit alleging that they failed to properly advise their mutual client in a contract deal.

Deans & Lyons Secures

Settlement for Musician Injured By Car

News

Following intensive therapy, the victim of the parking lot accident remains unable to walk without the assistance of a cane, according to the firm, according to her lawyers.

‘Not Looking for Old White Guys’: Restaurant Chain Must Pay in Age Bias Suit

News

The EEOC said applicants who were turned away were told they were “too experienced,” as well as, “we are not looking for old white guys.”

Sluggish Supreme Court Poised to Deliver Big Decisions

News

The Supreme Court typically leaves its contentious and high-profile cases for closer to the end of the term.

New York Company Must Pay $5.1 Million for Demanding Religious Practices From Employees

News

The EEOC alleged that United Health Programs of America employees were being forced to follow an internal “Harnessing Happiness” system that required them to engage in activities such as prayers, religious workshops and “spiritual cleansing rituals.”