

No Fees for You: Non-Class Counsel Get Stiffed in VW Diesel Litigation

News

Numerous attorneys who worked on VW suits before the appointment of class counsel won't get paid, reports Bloomberg Law.

Report: VW to Pay About $10.2B to Settle Emissions Claims

News

USA Today is reporting that German automaker Volkswagen Group is expected to deliver a $10 billion settlement to cover government fines and compensate owners of vehicles fitted with software that cheated emissions standards.

The Plaintiffs' Lawyer Chasing VW

News

Elizabeth Cabraser's eloquence and focus on the clients contrasted with dozens of others who pitched the judge to lead the massive case against Volkswagen, bragging about their most recent newspaper awards, school credentials and trial prowess.