

Tech Industry Reacts to Trump's Order on Immigration With Fear and Frustration

Donald Trump's executive order Friday banning citizens of certain countries from entering the U.S. for 90 days blindsided the technology industry, reports The Los Angeles Times.

Reporter Tracey Lien writes that the industry had thought that its main battle on the immigration front was over the number of H-1B visas – granted to high-skilled foreign workers – that will be made available each year.

But now lawyers are fielding calls from worried tech workers with visas and green cards. And they're having to adjust their advice to those clients as each day's news comes out.

"For those abroad, we are telling them to come back as soon as possible, and be prepared to face questioning and possible refusal," Los Angeles immigration attorney Ayda Akalin said.
