

Technology Translation Solutions for Large Volume Non-English eDiscovery Matters

Merrill Corporation, a leading global provider of technology-enabled services for the financial, legal, health care and other corporate markets, will host a 1-hour CLE (California credit only) webinar “Technology Translation Solutions for Large Volume Non-English eDiscovery Matters.”

Jay Rosen, Merrill Brink International’s vice president of language solutions, will speak about the best practices on how to proactively engage an LSP, and utilize front end translation tools such as Early Language Assessment to save money, increase efficiency that in-house and outside counsels can leverage language solutions and eDiscovery expertise to better manage the end client’s matter.

Rosen leads Merrill Brink International’s FCPA practice on the West Coast. He assists global Fortune 500 corporations and AmLaw 200 law firms in conducting multilingual and foreign language-based due diligence and document review.

The free CLE webinar will take place on Friday, February 27, 2015 at 12:00pm PST. The event is open to the public.

Register for the webinar.