

The 10 Most Expensive Law Schools

U.S. News' list of law schools with the highest tuition reveals that the average tuition and fees for the 2018-2019 academic year was at least $64,000.

Above the Law took a look at the report and noted that all 10 on the short list are private, such as Columbia University, which tops the list.

Senior editor Staci Zaretsky comments: "It's certainly worth noting that the private law schools that made this list are among the best in the country. At highly ranked schools like these, you get what you pay for, and in the law school world, that usually means a high-paying paid job as an attorney that will allow you to service your enormous debt obligations in a timely fashion – and to be quite frank, with up to six figures of debt to pay off, that's priceless."
