

The Best Law Schools for Getting a Biglaw Job (2022)

“Rankings season is upon us, and many publications are rolling out their best offerings for readers’ perusal in advance of the release of the 2023 U.S. News & World Report Law School Rankings. For more than a decade, Law.com has published a list of the best law schools to go to if you want to,” reports Staci Zaretsky in Above The Law.

“Work in Biglaw after graduation. Law.com refers to these institutions of higher education as the go-to law schools, and this year, they’re ranked by the percentage of 2021 graduates who took associate positions at the 100 largest law firms based on attorney head count. Before we get to the list of the go-to law schools, it’s worthwhile to speak about.”

Read the article.