

The Big Money is Coming At this Biglaw Firm Just At a Slightly Later Date

“The associate salary party is far from over. While the market has seemingly settled on a standard compensation grid for associates, we now play the much longer tail game of which firms will match. And think about it with at least 200 firms earning the moniker Biglaw and a wave of elite boutiques also,” reports Kathryn Rubino in Above The Law.

“Well, there’s now another Biglaw firm shelling out the big bucks for associates. Mintz a firm that brought in $502,100,000 gross revenue in 2020, ranking it at No. 79 in the Am Law 100 has decided to up associates salaries. They’ll be matching the market standard set by Cravath. While most firms have backdated the raises to January 1.”

Read the article.