

The Law Schools With The Best And Worst First-Time Bar Exam Pass Rates In 2017

The American Bar Association has published bar exam pass rates for all law schools in the United States, indicating those rates ranging from 98.58 percent to 26.53 percent.

Above the Law offers some comment on the ratings, along with a peek at the best and worst on the list. (The ABA has made available for downloading an Excel spreadsheet listing all the schools' rates.)

The University of Chicago Law School tops the list with a first-time pass rate better than 98 percent. At the other end of the scale is the Arizona Summit Law School with a rate of 26.53 percent.
