

The New Role of General Counsel in Today's Big Data Privacy Age

Complimentary access to 2020 in-house privacy benchmarking report

Overcoming the economic crisis spurred by the COVID-19 pandemic, along with growing regulatory burdens in 2020 are requiring general counsel to take the reigns and ensure compliance with major data privacy laws.

With responses from representatives of more than 200 small, mid-size, and large businesses, the 2020 In-House Privacy Benchmarking Report is filled with valuable information. You'll learn:

- How privacy regulations have affected legal departments so far this year
- Why legal must ensure privacy compliance
- Why the need for cross-departmental communication is greater than ever

Download the report.