

These Are the Biglaw Firms Racking Up the Lateral Partners

“The Biglaw lateral market continues to be fire. And, as Above the Law has documented, that’s resulted in all manner of repercussions, But while a lot of these trends are focused around associates that are potentially looking to leave their firm, the partner market has also seen a spike in activity. The,” reports Kathryn Rubino in Above The Law.

“Remember the blockbuster move of 43 attorneys including 18 partners from Stroock & Stroock & Lavan to Paul Hastings? As historical as that move was, Paul Hastings is far from the only firm looking to bolster their partnership ranks. Leopard Solutions has broken down exactly which Biglaw firms have added the most lateral partners.”
