Licensing for the Government Contractor

A free on-demand webinar from Thompson Coburn explains the background, the issues, and the rules that apply to licensing in the government arena.

Protecting one’s valuable intellectual property is critical to a contractor’s survival in the federal marketplace, and understanding the basics of licensing, as applied to both prime contractors and subcontractors, should play a major role in a contractor’s approach, the firm says on its website.

Presenters are Jeff Newman and Kevin Kercher.
