

Timothy M. Gladden Joins Davis+Gilbert's Corporate Practice as Partner

Timothy M. Gladden has joined Davis+Gilbert LLP in New York as a partner in the corporate practice.

Prior to joining Davis+Gilbert, Gladden worked at Rimon, P.C. and Pillsbury Winthrop Shaw Pittman LLP.

Gladden's practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions, venture capital and private equity investments and securities transactions. He has substantial experience structuring, negotiating, and managing M&A transactions (buy-side and sell-side) across multiple industries. During his career, he has extensively counseled early-stage tech companies, portfolio companies and entrepreneurs on corporate structuring, governance, financing and joint venture. He often works with clients in the FinTech, E-commerce, Cleantech, EdTech, mobile, social media, SaaS, fashion and travel industries. Gladden frequently works with startups and venture funds focused on the future of how we work, live, and care for ourselves in a highly connected and increasingly diverse society.

"I'm excited to join Davis+Gilbert with its reputation as a leading firm providing excellent client service. My prior experience and interactions with the firm's attorneys will allow me to quickly integrate into their thriving M&A and growing emerging companies/venture capital practices. My clients will greatly benefit from Davis+Gilbert's sophisticated platform and network," said Gladden.

"Tim is an experienced corporate attorney, who knows our firm well and reflects the values of our culture and clients," said Curt Myers, co-chair of Davis+Gilbert's Corporate Practice Group. "The corporate team, and our clients, will benefit greatly in working with Tim, especially with his deep knowledge in M&A and the emerging companies space.”

Gladden earned his undergraduate degree, cum laude, at Hunter College – CUNY and his law degree at Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law where he was an Alexander Fellow.