

Top 20 Biglaw Firm Welcomes Lawyers Back to Office, But Without Raises Yet

“What is it with Biglaw firms announcing their return-to-office plans before they announce their Milbank matches? Come on, let’s think about incentivizing employees here, folks. No one really wants to head back to the office during an ongoing pandemic, but a bigger paycheck might make it a little,” reports Staci Zaretsky in their Above The Law.

“One of the firms that made its office return plan known prior to informing employees that there would be no salary match to come just yet is Weil Gotshal, a firm that’s in the top 20 of the Am Law 100 No. 17, to be exact. Earlier this week, the firm sent out a brief memo letting associates know that its US offices would be reopening fully.”
