

Top Biglaw Firm Announces Bonuses, But not Everyone is Happy

"We are officially in the thick of Biglaw bonus season, with firms rushing to show their appreciation to hardworking associates with some cold, hard cash. Money may not buy happiness, but it sure will help you pay down your students loans. The latest firm to announce their associate bonus," reports Kathryn Rubino in their Above The Law.

"Both the annual and special variety, is Baker McKenzie. In the grid below, you can see that not only is Baker McKenzie matching the year-end and special bonuses for the class of 2020 and more senior but they are also offering a 25 percent premium on both if associates hit the 2300-hour threshold. Noticeably off this grid. The Class of."

Read the article.